

Century Equity Partners Creating Value Together

Century Equity Partners provides private equity buyout and growth capital to companies with enterprise value less than $300 million that are seeking capital to support growth or fund partial buyout or recapitalization opportunities.

Focusing exclusively on investing in companies that provide outsourced services, distribution, and technology solutions to businesses operating within the insurance and financial services sectors, we identify best-in-class management teams and assist them in building their businesses by leveraging our experience, relationships, and network within our core markets.

Accelerating Possibilities

Identifying promising companies with tangible value propositions and the potential to benefit from our strategic value-add is only the first part of Century's investment process. After providing a portfolio company with growth or buyout capital, Century leaves the day-to-day operations to our management teams and seeks to be involved at a strategic level, assisting our partners in further realizing their market potential and accelerating top line growth.

Our approach of partnering with exceptional management teams and providing them with the strategic support required to build market-leading businesses is straight-forward in concept, but unique in its application within our core markets. Beyond capital injection, we assist portfolio companies in several ways to develop strategy, grow revenues, make operating improvements, and ultimately build shareholder value.
